Happy August, everyone.

2026 keeps rolling along. A new episode of the podcast The Naturist Living Show was just released, and it features many of us on the cast and crew of the new movie Naked As Created: The Pastor Jim Moore Story talking about the making of the movie. Check it wherever you get podcasts.

This weekend, August 6-9, Oaklake Trails in Depew, OK will be holding a “Buff Burn”, a nudist event modeled after Burning Man. That will include a Saturday evening screening of Naked As Created: The Pastor Jim Moore Story in the chapel at 6:00 PM followed by a Q and A session with me (and with anyone else from the production who shows up). So venture on out to Oaklake Trails for a fun weekend.

August also means that it's time for the AANR Convention, which is hosted this year by The Willamettans in Oregon. If you do happen to be making the trek up to the Pacific Northwest to attend the convention, the resort asks you to pre-register at <https://forms.gle/WFbJFEtTLAT8u64x9>. And if you've never visited The Willamettans before, go ahead and complete their background screening forms at <https://willamettans.wildapricot.org/Application>

August is also Nudist History Month, so check out this article on the AANR website: https://www.aanr.com/aanr_articles/the-history-of-nudism/

Try to stay cool and nude as often as possible, and enjoy the rest of summer.
